15th September, 2025 | 10:30 AM

ANA Block Seminar hall, Acharya Campus

About the Program

The Industry-Oriented Guest Lecture on "Social Entrepreneurship for Young Engineers", organized on the occasion of Engineers Day, aims to inspire budding engineers to leverage their technical knowledge and innovative thinking for social impact. The session highlights how engineering solutions can address real-world challenges, promote sustainable development, and create value for communities. By blending industry insights with entrepreneurial perspectives, the program encourages students to think beyond conventional careers and explore opportunities to become changemakers who drive both technological progress and societal well-being.

Objectives of the Program

- Celebration of Engineers day
- Provide guidelines for future engineers on social entrepreneurship
- Know challenges engineers will be facing in the field

Expected Outcomes of the Program
